11/09/2023 – 22/09/2023 Antalya Bilim University, Turkey

IPSA-Antalya Summer Method School for Social Science Research Methods

Academic Excellence: Antalya Bilim University has a strong reputation for its rigorous academic programs and high-quality faculty members. I have learned from experts in the field of political science and gain insights that will enrich my understanding of global politics.

Cultural Enrichment: The opportunity to immerse myself in Turkish culture and interact with students from diverse backgrounds is something I greatly value. This international exposure did not only enhance my intercultural competence but also contributed to my personal growth. Research Opportunities: I was interested in exploring the unique political dynamics in Turkey and the broader Middle East region.

Antalya's strategic location and its rich political history provided an ideal environment for conducting research and gaining firsthand experience in the field. Networking: I have built lasting connections with both faculty and fellow students during my time at Antalya Bilim University. These connections are invaluable as I progress in my academic and professional pursuits.

Contribution to My Home Institution: Upon my return, I tried to share the knowledge and experiences gained during this mobility program with my peers at my home institution.
